Candidates in Second Debate Series Tonight

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican and Democratic presidential rivals meet tonight in the second round of their televised debate, with indications it will be livelier than the first one.

Both Democratic John F. Kennedy and Republican Richard M. Nixon were relaxing here today before the hour-long session scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time.

Since they first met before the TV cameras and radio microphones on Sept. 20, both candidates have gotten down to more rough-and-tumble politicking than they did before the first round, which many critics called a kid gloves affair.

Some of the tougher tactics are expected to show up in the two square off in a television studio setting designed "to suggest a feeling of warmth and comfort."

The candidates will be questioned by a panel of four newsmen on both foreign and domestic issues. There will be no formal opening statements, as there were in the first debate. Replies to questions will be limited to 2 1/2 minutes.

The debate will originate in the big NBC studio here and will be carried by the three TV networks and four major radio networks.

Kennedy will be on the left of the screen, Nixon on the right—as they were in the first debate in Chicago. Between them will be Frank McGee, an NBC newsmen who will be moderator. They will be seated at a large desk which curves outward like a widespread horseshoe arrangement.

Nixon and Kennedy will step to nearby lecterns to answer questions. The lecterns will be covered by grass, cloth, like that covering the curved wall in the background.

The four newsmen who will question the candidates in turn will be seated at a long desk facing the standard bearers. The questioners will be Edward P. Morgan of ABC, Paul Niven of CBS, Alvin Spivak of United Press International and Hal Levy, Washington correspondent for the Long Island Newsday.

Many viewers said after the first debate that the studio setting looked bleak and that Nixon appeared haggard and tired. GOP national headquarters said lighting and makeup had made Nixon appear well.

Nixon's TV adviser, Edward A. Rogers, said the type of lighting used in the Chicago debate probably will be used on the vice president tonight, but that the final decision will be up to Nixon.

Rogers also said that Stan Lawrence, a New York makeup man used previously at various times by Nixon, will apply makeup to Nixon's face to hide the beard shadow.

There was no word on whether Kennedy will use makeup. His aides said he used no makeup in the first debate, relying on a heavy tan.

Teachers Oppose Amendment 52

In a meeting this week the Hempstead County Classroom Teachers joined the Arkansas Education Association in opposing Amendment No. 52.

The group also urges parents to study the amendment before voting on it as "we feel the public school system of Hope could be seriously affected if the proposal is adopted," said Mrs. W. T. Baber, secretary of the group.

Judge Found Innocent at Fort Smith

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Fort Smith Municipal Judge James Langston was found innocent Thursday of a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor female.

A Sebastian Circuit Court jury deliberated only 55 minutes before returning a verdict of acquittal. Langston was indicted by a grand jury in an investigation of charges made during campaigning for 10th district chancellor. Langston was defeated by incumbent Franklin Wilder.

Wilder and three other Fort Smith men face trial later on charges of conspiring to induce a minor female to make statements degrading to her name and character.

Both judges were charged with misdemeanor offenses. Langston denied in court Thursday that he ever made romantic advances toward a 17-year-old girl who testified earlier that he drove her to Oklahoma and tried to make love to her.

Langston said after the trial he would return to his Municipal Court bench, from which he has been absent since the indictment, after a short rest.

Cubans Deny Charge

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban schooner alleged by Guatemalan authorities to have been carrying an invasion force was nothing more than a fishing boat, the newspaper Prensa Libre reports.

Guatemalan authorities reported Monday night the machinegunning of an invasion schooner which was reported forced aground on Cozumel Island by air force planes.

A weather check with the News-Observer in Crossett, where the Hope Bobcats have a football date this Friday night, made at 2 p.m. today, discloses that while the sky is cloudy there has been no rain this afternoon. Crossett had a light drizzle early this morning.

Rain Delays Cotton Pick Contest

BLAINEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Rain caused temporary postponement of the cotton picking phase of the National Cotton Picking Contest here today.

A light rain at 7:30 a.m. caused contest officials to abandon the scheduled 10 a.m. starting time. They tentatively rescheduled event for noon, in hopes the cotton would be dry enough to pick by then.

Contest officials said the event probably will be postponed until next week if it cannot be held today.

Meanwhile, other events were to proceed on schedule. These included a musical show and a cotton fashion show today and the Cotton Ball tonight.

The brother of Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy and a beautiful drum majorette from the University of Mississippi shared the spotlight in Thursday's events.

Don't Want the Blame, Faubus Says

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he asked that his name not be put on the Florida general election ballot as a candidate for president because "I didn't want to be blamed for what is going to happen in the next four years."

Faubus explained that he expects the presidential race between Sen. John Kennedy and Vice President Richard Nixon to be extremely close over the nation.

"The outcome might be decided by the Florida vote and, if my candidacy influenced the Florida vote, I might be blamed," he said.

The Arkansas governor, who has given lukewarm endorsement to the Kennedy ticket, Thursday asked Florida Secretary of State Robert Hall to withhold his name from the ballot. Hall said the request would be honored.

The National States Rights Party, which nominated Faubus for president last March, got his name on the Florida ballot through petitions.

Asked about reports that his name might be on scattered ballots in Tennessee and Alabama, Faubus said, "I don't want my name on any ballots. I don't want to become involved."

Faubus said the ease with which his Florida backers got his name on the ballot and the success of the States Rights Party in getting a slate of unpledged electors on the Arkansas ballot indicates widespread discontent with the Democratic Party in the South.

He added that he did not feel an endorsement of the national ticket recent Southern Governors Democratic governors attending the recent Southern Governors Conference at Hot Springs would have much influence on the election.

"Governors haven't very much influence in a national election," he said.

Faubus said his Florida backers had assured him he would run first or second if he campaigned in that state.

"I think they are overly optimistic about my running first, but I might have run second," he said.

The imperial pair's chartered Japan Air Lines DC7C left the Anchorage International Airport for Tokyo early today. They spent an hour and 28 minutes here while their plane was refueled for the flight home. They were due in Tokyo Friday morning.

Ex-Arkansas Convict Admits Part in 100 Robberies That Has Terrorized Southwest

LANCASTER, Calif. (AP) — Highway patrolmen early today arrested an Arkansas ex-convict and said he had admitted participating with two other men in a four-state foray of perhaps 100 highway robberies.

Authorities said Elton Harold Hale, 43, and two others, still at large, are believed responsible for robberies of motorists and assaults on women in California, Texas, Arizona and Arkansas.

Booked on suspicion of kidnapping, robbery, rape and sex perversion, Hale denied committing any sex offenses. Sheriff's Sgt. D. B. Ellsworth said Hale had admitted being a member of the highway gang and quoted him as saying, "I've robbed and stolen but I've never killed anyone."

Arrested with him 35 miles northeast of Los Angeles was his son, Robert, 17. Who said Hale had picked him up Thursday night in Yuma, Ariz. The boy said he had been living there with an uncle since last month. Robert, one of six Hale children, was held for juvenile authorities.

The father, told officers he had served 10 years for rustling and two years for burglary in the Arkansas State Penitentiary. He has been charged in Texas with highway robbery and rape.

Sgt. Ellsworth said Hale had refused to name his companions in the crimes, saying, "I'll probably have to do time for this, and I don't want to put the finger on anyone. . . . If you pick them up and they tell you, fine."

Ellsworth said, "We're confident there'll be other arrests soon."

Investigators said three men in a car stopped four cars near El Paso, Tex., last Wednesday morning, assaulted one woman and escaped with about $10,000 after tying up their victims with a metal chain and securing it with a pad lock.

The victims said the bandit car had a red light and siren, but that officers he and his partners did not use such equipment.

New Cases of Polio Now Total 179

WASHINGTON (AP) — The states reported 179 new polio cases last week, 121 of them paralytic, the Public Health Service reported today.

There were indications the 1961 peak definitely had been passed, but the service did not say so. It has stated there must be a decline in numbers of cases for several weeks before it will be definite the peak has passed.

The 121 new paralytic cases last week compared with 131 in the preceding week ended Sept. 24, which has been the high for any week this year. The high for all kinds of polio cases has been 218 in the week ended Sept. 3.

A year ago last week 387 polio cases were reported, including 204 paralytic.

From Jan. 1 through Oct. 1 there had been 2,304 polio cases listed, 1,554 of them paralytic. The comparative figures for the first 39 weeks of 1959 were 6,332 and 4,050.

Maryland reported 21 cases last week, all paralytic, to top the states in both total and paralytic cases. Fifteen of these were in Baltimore, three in Baltimore County, and two in adjoining Anne Arundel County.

The Rev. B. W. Lane, pastor of First Pentecostal Church, and family, have returned from a church conference in Dallas, Texas attended by 4,200 ministers and families.

Kidnaper Is Dead, Woman Shot Critically

PORTYCE, Ark. (AP) — The body of a Little Rock man and a wounded Cleveland, Ohio, woman were found today about 500 yards from where they abandoned a car during a midnight robbery.

Portyce Police Chief Bill Gover said Dallas County Sheriff J. Clay Atkinson notified him by radio of the discovery.

The man was identified as Lewis Burnham, about 35, and the woman as Carolyn Mitchell, 22, of near Portyce.

Miss Mitchell, shot in the head, was rushed to a hospital here and her condition was listed as critical.

She later was transferred to Little Rock for brain surgery.

The couple had been sought since Thursday morning when the woman's mother, Mrs. Ruby Mitchell, was shot at her home about 8 miles south of here. Mrs. Mitchell was not seriously hurt.

Police said Burnham forced Miss Mitchell to accompany him after the shooting. The abandoned car was found yesterday, about 8 miles southeast of here and officers launched a manhunt in the muddy creek bottoms.

Atkinson told Gover over the radio that "the man shot the woman and then killed himself."

Officers theorized that the shooting occurred sometime Thursday and the woman lay wounded through the night.

Mrs. Mitchell told police that Burnham threatened to kill Carolyn if she did not accompany him.

"Under such intolerable circumstances, it is not without reason that there is a boiling, seething and ultimately irrefragable mass of resentment among the suffering people. The day will surely come when they will rise in revolt against their oppressors. We Chinese will yet see the day of national liberation."

"The imminent vote is not on the question of admitting China to U.N. membership, but on the question whether to place a Soviet-backed resolution on the assembly's agenda for full debate. For nine years the United States has persuaded the Assembly to bypass the issue."

"The vote last year against putting the Chinese question on the agenda was 44-24, with 9 abstentions."

But this year, 16 new nations—predominantly neutralist in attitude—have entered the General Assembly. Khrushchev has been working on them, night and day, inside and outside the U. N.

Until the past few days, American authorities felt certain their proposal had sufficient backing to get the question tabled for another year.

"The new neutralist countries, however, now appear to be the big X-factor in the equation."

Some African and Asian delegates expressed strong feelings over the defeat of the neutralist resolution calling for personal

Policeman Killed by a Burglar

MEMPHIS (AP) — Police Patrolman Frank Bruno was shot to death early today while stalking a burglar in a closed and darkened store.

The killer vanished in the night, apparently unmarked by four bullets fired at him by Bruno's squad car partner, Patrolman W. E. Pierini.

The shooting touched off an intense manhunt.

Bruno, hit in the stomach, died in a hospital emergency room a few minutes after he was shot down in front of the store's meat counter.

Scrambling in through the back door at the sound of the shot, Pierini found Bruno sprawled on the floor.

"Run after him," gasped Bruno. Pierini said he ran out the front door and caught just a glimpse of the fleeing gunman.

The officers were sent to investigate after police received a telephone call from a nearby resident who heard a window being smashed in the store.

The patrolmen found the store's glass door bashed in with a wire newspaper rack.

As Pierini covered the rear door, Bruno advanced into the dark store. Officers said he was shot from behind the cash register.

Department Store Sales Show Gain

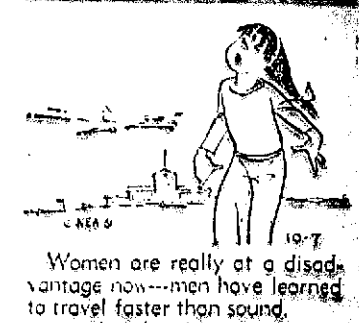

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis reported today that department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District the week ended Oct. 1 were six per cent above those of the similar week last year.

Only stores in Memphis and those in the smaller district cities failed to report an improved showing over last year. Memphis was down three per cent and sales in seven district cities were down two per cent.

The biggest rise was reported in the Little Rock area, 11 per cent.

St. Louis was up nine per cent and Louisville five.

District sales for the four weeks ended Oct. 1 were two per cent under the like period of 1959 and cumulative sales for the year to date were the same as last year.

What They Are Saying at the Series

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Mrs. Vernon Law, wife of the Pirate right-hand pitcher who defeated the New York Yankees in the Series opener, accepted Thursday's defeat just as philosophically as the Pirate players did.

"I guess if you're going to lose you might as well lose by a big score," Mrs. Law said. "Of course, no one likes to lose."

Most of the Pirate wives sat in back of home plate.

No pictures were taken in the Pirate clubhouse after Pittsburgh was defeated 16-3 by the New York Yankees.

The Pirates didn't request photographers to stay out. It merely is a World Series custom that no pictures are taken in the losing clubhouse.

Fred Hovde, president of Purdue University, was somewhat neutral at the second game.

Two former Purdue graduates played in the game — pitcher Bob Friend for Pittsburgh and first baseman Bill Skowron for New York.

As usual, newsmen jammed the New York dugout to talk with Yankee Manager Casey Stengel before the second game.

About the same time, Yankee first baseman Dale Long was trying to get out of the dugout to take some batting practice.

After several minutes of pushing and maneuvering, Long finally managed to work his way through the mass of reporters. Then he shrugged his shoulders, looked up at one newsmen and asked:

"Who's down there anyway? Marilyn Monroe?"

The Pirates may have lost the second game 16-3, but the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette and Sun-Telegraph is far from giving up hope.

The following two-line banner headline appeared on the front page this morning:

"Pirate second victory slightly delayed, beat 'em, Bucs, next time!"

THE EASTER DINNER

BY DONALD DOWNES

Copyright © 1960 by Donald Downes. Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

THE STORY: Ciccio Massimo and his family are concerned over the obtaining of food for an Easter dinner in honor of the engagement of Ciccio's daughter Rosalba. This has led Livio, an 11-year-old boy, to attempt to steal a sheep from the German army which is occupying Rome. Ciccio manages to aid his son in escaping the Nazis.

CHAPTER XVII

Ciccio went into the boys' room, banging the door to certify his anger.

"Papa—" began Livio in his smallest voice.

"Shut your mouth! I'll talk!" Pausing a moment, he realized he has nothing to say and added, "Well, tell me what happened. The truth!"

"Our gang on boys—11 of us—decided to steal some sheep. You want a lamb. We waited for the trucks to come. Five of them came. They parked them outside the gates of the slaughterhouse and put four guards over them. It was beginning to get dark. Salvo and Rico sneaked up—they each had matches and a bottle of gasoline and rags. We'd planned it all. Some of the boys had done it before, with bigger boys, at the German warehouse on the Colle Oppio."

"Go on, go on."

"Well, they set one of the trucks on fire. With gasoline it makes a big flame quick. Some Germans chased them and some tried to put out the fire, and while they were doing all that we opened the back of the other trucks and let the sheep out. We would've gotten away with the sheep—lots of them. We could've gotten away with a whole truck, but none of us knew how to drive. But then the women came ...

they spoiled everything—"

"What women?"

"Old women like you see yelling in the market. Fat women, even older than Mama. Any way, nowadays, where there's food, women just appear. There were about 40 of them, I guess. They began screaming and chasing the sheep and catching them and running away. So other Germans heard. And the Germans began to fire at them. One of them got hit—I heard her fall down screaming. I started to run away. And I saw a little lamb running in front of me, and I just grabbed him and kept on running."

As he looked up at his father, his lower lip signaled that tears were not far off. "I would have brought him home for Rosalba's festa if—if you hadn't let him escape."

Clementina, disapproval expressed in every movement of her body, came through the door holding a plate heaped with steaming turnips and a cup of beaten egg and sugar which she put on the table. Without a word she sailed out again, her nose in the air.

"Get out of bed and eat that, and then go back to bed again. And the next time you do something I have forbidden you to do, I'll break your head open, do you understand?" But even as Ciccio spoke he thought, That's going to be a real man, that Livio. He's more like me than any of the others. "Good night."

Thursday the Affair of the Testaccio Slaughterhouse was the subject of excited conversation from one end of Rome to the other. Two Roman women in their 50s and a boy of 16 were dead. A German truck was destroyed and one of the guards in the hospital with first degree burns. Nearly 300 sheep and lambs had disappeared.

In the SD villa on the Vile Sartorio, Oberst Kraff's opinion was: "It's quite useless to tell me that this was just a spontaneous outbreak of hungry people. This is the work of clever and trained agitators, schooled by the English or the Americans, using the most advanced Russian methods. The security in our area has degenerated to such an appalling point that the Wehrmacht cannot even bring a few sheep into the city. I hope that before General Kaltenbrunner comes some of you can think up an convincing explanation that will satisfy him; I can't."

A dozen families where evidence of mutton or lamb was found, were sent to prison.

Friday evening's harvest was not unencouraging: no real meat, of course, but Maria did bring two big cans of peeled sauce to-matoes and an unheard-of treasure—nine eggs. Livio was late. To calm Clementina, Ciccio invented lies about where the boy had gone, all the while walking up and down the room nervously biting his fingernails. It was nearly half past eight when Livio finally came in, his jacket off and rolled up in a huge bundle which he carried like a suitcase by a piece of old clothesline tied around it. Without a word, but with an ear-to-ear smile and sparkling eyes, he set the package on the kitchen table and untied it with all the airs of a magician.

First he whisked out three long, blue, one-kilo packages of Gragnano maccheroni. Next, he conjured up a salami, nearly two feet long and as big around as his wrist. Then a fist-sized lump of hard sheep cheese, "To grate on the rigatoni!" last, a really gigantic bottle of artichoke hearts in oil. "You can use the oil, Mama, on the pasta, if the other isn't enough."

Amid an excited chatter of pleasure, Rosalba kissed the hero, hugging him so violently that she (talks between President Eisenhower and Khrushchev. There were assertions that the United States used "parliamentary trickery" to take the teeth out of the resolution and get it withdrawn.

If this feeling is reflected in the voting today, the outcome could be close. Balloting is expected to start late this afternoon or early tonight.

Khrushchev and other Communist delegates, obviously aiming to attract votes from the African nations, bore down hard on the theme that the United States discriminates against Negroes.

Other major arguments advanced for seating Red China were that 650 million people cannot be ignored; that the Peiping regime is the legitimate government of China and therefore deserves to be in the U. N.

American delegates hit back in these main areas of argument: That Communist China was guilty of aggression against the U. N. itself in the Korean war. That it is still pursuing aggressive policies in Tibet, on the frontier of India and in Southeast Asia.

Khrushchev, defeated on other major objectives, is exerting every effort to win out on the China issue.

He canceled plans to attend two more receptions: Thursday night and was not in the Assembly for the first time.

Informed quarters reported that the Soviet premier has asked to speak to the Assembly Saturday, apparently in an attempt to bring the disarmament question before the 98-nation body immediately.

This topic was placed by the steering committee on the agenda for the political committee. Later, the Soviets entered a formal resolution to put it directly before the Assembly.

This would give Khrushchev the opportunity to address the Assembly again before leaving New York. He has evaded questions as to when that will be.

Poll Taxes Dip in 21 Counties

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Poll tax reports from 21 counties show a decline of 4,470 in the number issued this year.

State Auditor Jimmie Jones said the counties issued 118,883 tax receipts good for the period Oct. 1, 1958 to Oct. 1, 1960, and only 114,413 for Oct. 1, 1960 through Oct. 1, 1961.

The 1959 tax receipts were needed for voting in the Democratic primary while the 1960 receipt is needed for a vote in the November general election.

The largest decline was in Mississippi County which issued 17,878 receipts in 1959 and only 14,431 this year.

Other counties (with the 1959 figure in parenthesis) included: Arkansas 8,108 (7,919), Phillips 9,629 (9,714) and Lincoln 4,032 (4,047).

Editor Horace Greeley, nominally a Republican, was the Democratic candidate for the presidency in 1872. He lost to Ulysses S. Grant.

lifted him off the ground. He pushed her away impatiently, "and that's not all; I have a message from Peppino; he has a bottle of cognac, a bottle of anise, and"—he dropped his voice to a stage whisper—"a 20-liter German gasoline tin full of Frascati wine."

No Moaning or Gloating by Either Side

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates and the New York Yankees shared the sunshine and shadows during the second World Series game at Forbes Field Thursday, but the sunshine followed only the Yankees to the dressing rooms.

The shadows hung over the Bucs' quarters, and they were cast by the horrendous 16-3 drubbing inflicted by the New Yorkers to square the Series at one-all.

The elation in the Yankee dressing room was not as high-pitched as might be imagined, and by the same token the gloom in the Pirate quarters was no unfathomable.

"I prefer getting beat by a big score as long as I have to lose," said Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murlough philosophically.

"Don't look, Buc third baseman, echoed Murlough's sentiments.

"Hall, we got beat," he exploded. "And I'm like Danny. If we lose by a big score we don't have to hang our heads and worry about some mistakes—the kind of mistakes that cost you victory in these 3-2 and 2-1 games. We made a good many mistakes out there, but we learned something. We'll profit by it and don't worry about us not winning the Series. We'll win okay."

Bob Friend, starting and losing pitcher, took the defeat hardest. He pitched good ball, the four innings he worked before being taken out for a pinch hitter. He fanned six, walked two, allowed six hits and two earned runs.

"The Yankees, to whom World Series victories are old hat, took the game pretty much in stride. Mickey Mantle virtually apologized for hitting two rousing home runs."

"I wish I could have saved them for a time when they meant something," the Mick said.

Casey Stengel, Yankee manager, explained why he put Yogi Berra in left field and Elston Howard behind the plate.

"I'm not afraid to start Berra anywhere," the gnarled skipper said. "He's awkward but he covers a lot of ground. We need his hitting."

There was no real moaning and no gloating in either dressing room. The players realized two games don't make a Series.

New shoe fashions for fall emphasize slim lines and the shaped heel in all heights. Typical is this cross-strap pump (upper left) in polished black kid. Set on a shaped mid-heel, it's buttoned with ocean pearl buttons. City and country meet (upper right) in this smooth saddle-stitched pump set on a new, triangular stacked heel. Corduroy is used (lower left) for a sleek pump bound in leather and buttoned with a single strap. Kennedy and Nixon Debate Friday Night

WASHINGTON (AP) — The setting for the Nixon-Kennedy debate Friday night from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. 1960 is designed to suggest a feeling of warmth and comfort.

The National Broadcasting Co. reported this today but without giving details of the special set. This will be in contrast to the stark background in the first televised meeting Sept. 26 in Chicago between Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential candidate, and Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee.

NBC, in announcing the final arrangements for Friday's event, said the candidates will make no formal opening statements. The format will be a news panel interview. In the first debate each candidate presented an opening statement of eight minutes.

Friday's meeting will be in an NBC studio here, but will be covered by the three television networks and the four major radio networks.

An NBC makeup artist, Bob O'Braden, has been made available to the candidates if they desire his services.

There has been no indication whether either Kennedy or Nixon will make use of him.

The news panel interview will be unlimited as to subject matter and will be moderated by NBC news correspondent Frank McGee. The panel will include Edward P. Morgan of ABC and Phil Niven of CBS and two newspapermen, Alvin Spivak of UPI and Hal Levy, Washington correspondent of Newsday.

Each of the newsmen will question the candidates in turn. The program will use four cameras and two microphone booms in addition to inviolable mikes worn by the candidates.

The first Nixon-Kennedy TV program dealt with domestic affairs. The one Friday and one planned for Oct. 13 are unrestricted as to subject matter. The fourth and last, to be on Oct. 21, will deal with foreign policy.

eliminate a 45-mile jog on state Highway 5 with new construction from near Vanhook to near Naylor.

The commission awarded contracts totaling $1,773,004 on seven roads and bridge projects, on which bids were opened Wednesday.

Action on a Baxter County project was delayed pending consultation with the county judge.

Husband's Apathy Worried His Wife

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

When I was 17 I had to get married. We had a wonderful baby girl and were very happy. My husband always treats me good. My problem is that he treats me too good. I can do anything I want.

I try to make him understand that I want him to object once in awhile. To outsiders our marriage seems to be perfect yet I feel a great emptiness in my life. All I ask is that he care just a little. Do you think that he only married me because he was too decent not to? I love him very much and I think he loves me, but the way he acts makes me doubt it more and more. Can a man act this way and still care?

He always reads your column. Maybe he'll read your answer and change. —Mrs. B. K.

Dear Mrs. B. K.: An irresponsible male—husband or wife—can wreck a marriage. You say you and your husband were "very happy." Search your own mind. When did you stop being happy? Why?

Once you've answered these questions you will be better able to handle your problem.

Dear Helen:

I'm 13 and love horses. I'm not interested in boys. My father doesn't like horses but he had horses when he was young. Do you think there is some way I could have a horse? I read your column often so I picked you to answer my problem. I think you will understand. —Eddy Lou Martene

Note to Mrs. F.: Your husband is being unreasonable in asking you to get a job when you already have a full-time one in running the home and rearing three daughters. It's his business, not yours, to be the breadwinner. But I suspect this grumbling is a symptom of something far deeper.

Remember that line of William Blake's, "Love to faults is always blind"? Your husband may be falling out of love with you—and you with him. Fault-finding is the first step. Call a halt before it's too late—both of you!

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Marital Harmony."

Game Saturday

Important to Hogs, Baylor

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas and Baylor, a pair of Southwest Conference unbeaten, square off tomorrow in a pre-scheduled edition of their 56-year-old rivalry.

The Razorbacks, ranked ninth nationally after their 7-0 SWC victory over Texas Christian last week, are slim favorites over the much-improved Bears, who clipped Louisiana State last week 7-3.

These two were ranked with Texas and TCU as the Southwest's top four before the season opened. Arkansas won its first three games with a vicious defense the determining factor in two of them. Victory tomorrow is vital to both in their league ambitions.

Tomorrow's bout will pit two fine junior halfbacks — Lance Alworth of Arkansas and Ronnie Bull of Baylor — both of whom have mentioned as possible All-America backs. Bull was held to 11 yards by LSU last week with five Tigers tackling him on every carry.

Arkansas' offense has been spearheaded by sophomore quarterback Billy Moore and last week the Hogs added an up-the-middle charge by senior fullback Joe Alberly, who missed the first two games because of an injury.

Alworth has been going easy in workouts this week in an effort to strengthen a leg injury suffered in the Texas Christian game last week when he was kicked just below the knee. University sources said he would play against Baylor.

Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas said yesterday he will use his promising, sophomore fullback, Billy Joe Moody, exclusively on defense for the rest of the season.

Arkansas has three solid fullbacks this season — Moody is running third — and unless senior Joe Paul Alberly or junior Curtis Cox is injured, a third man on offense will not be needed.

Alworth and Tommy Minter of Baylor will face each other in a punting duel. Minter has averaged 40.7 yards per kick this season on eight punts. Five of the eight have been over 40 yards. Several times he kicked LSU into deep holes.

Baylor has the same kind of light, quick team as the Razorbacks, although the Bears outweight the hogs 12 pounds per man in the first unit line.

Baylor also has two strong units, as does Arkansas. The second unit scored the touchdown given at the home of Mrs. Onzie Mae Hogan tonight. The public is invited.

Rev. Amos Terrell and the All Stars of Radio Station KOKA, Shreveport, Louisiana, will appear at the New Bethel Baptist Church, 4 1/2 miles south of Hope on the Palmos road, Saturday, October 8, at 8:00 p.m.

This program is being sponsored by the Usher Board. The public is invited to attend.

FRED O. ELLIS

"What one line of insurance is most frequently carried for FAR LESS than the property is worth?" I was asked recently by a serious-minded friend.

I replied: "Human life!
Without doubt, it is the most grossly uninsured. People who insist on having ample fire insurance on their houses, still have very little life insurance.
And yet at age 40, the chances of death within the next 20 years are 16 times greater than that of a bad fire!"

"A survey shows the average family head," I continued,
"carries less than $9,000 of life insurance. But his 'earning potential' to his family amounts to between $100,000 and $300,000! The amount of life insurance commonly carried will only replace 18 months of income."

"Look at it this way too," I added. "Most individuals think nothing about carrying $25,000 to $100,000 of liability insurance under a car policy to pay for the loss of someone else's life. Yet, they carry only an average of about $8-300 on their own lives!"

May we show you how you can better protect your own family at reasonable cost?

Starlings Are Blamed for Air Accident

BOSTON (AP)—Two Navy floating cranes today begin raising the forward section of the Eastern Airlines Electra that carried 61 persons to their deaths in a takeoff, plunge into the harbor Tuesday night.

Federal Aviation Administrator
B. R. Quesada suggested Wednesday starlings sucked into the air intakes may have disabled one or more of the four turbine-propeller engines. More than a hundred dead birds were found on the runway.

Only 11 of the 72 aboard the plane, bound for Philadelphia and Charlotte, N.C., Greenville, S.C., and Atlanta, survived the shattering crash. All were injured, six on the danger list at hospitals.

The pilot, co-pilot and engineer died, but two stewardesses escaped serious injury.

Fifty-seven bodies have been recovered, all identified but one, a young Negro woman. Four persons are missing.

Two divers, James Walton and Jim Cahill, said the main section of fuselage, in 35 feet of water looked "as though it had been ripped open with a can opener."

Cheney has served as revenue commissioner since 1955. His was one of Faubus' first appointments.
Douthit said the changes were being made at the request of the officials involved and did not reflect a shakeup in the administration.

The engines could help to determine whether birds caused a stall.
Birds have damaged planes but officials said there is no instance on record of their having caused a fatal accident.
